Golden supports development of soft-skills by helping people gain knowledge about other team members, improve their self-awareness, how they make decisions, ways to manage relationships, effective ways to work together, and dealing with stress.

Leaders who have used the Golden Personality Profiler find it a key starting point for individual or team development. Understanding what makes an individual unique leads to greater self-acceptance, and to value the differences of others. These are key factors impacting team performance as well as supporting health and well-being at work.

At a glance:
- Delivers in-depth insights about personality to support coaching and mentoring activities
- 4-letter Jungian type and a 5th dimension for stress, plus 18 personality traits
- Highly relevant for professional development at all stages of career; relevant to all job levels
- 25-30 minutes, untimed
- Available in English (US, UK, Australian, Indian), French, Dutch, Norwegian, Swedish and Danish
- Free support materials, guides and technical manuals.

“GOLDEN is a great catalyst to improve collective efficacy and business processes. It helps people become aware of each other's differences and of how useful it is to adapt.”

Pierre Gras, Talent Development and L&D Manager, Banque de France
Golden Personality Profiler™

Sample Question

Reporting
The Golden Individual report provides actionable insights step by step to help understand the person’s unique characteristics.